

I'm dreaming of a green Christmas

Bing Crosby might not have agreed, but times have changed a lot since the 40's. Now green is officially the new white. So keep your conscience clear by giving delightful "green" gifts that everyone will love to receive.

Gifts for Kids

Go old school and treat your kids to a nostalgic Christmas that will bring out the festive fun in family gatherings.

Board games made from recycled card

Forget computer games that eat energy and can be unsociable, and try a game that will bring the family together.

The green board game company makes great games from recycled card. Choose from strategy games to colouring books, board games to playing cards

Recycled cardboard playhouses

Card playhouses make a great alternative to the traditional plastic ones. Green Apple has a fantastic selection that includes forts, dens, rockets and tepees.

Gifts for Her

Designer recycled jewellery
Fair Trade Vase made from recycled aluminium
Grow your own vegetables garden kit
Natural toiletries and cosmetics

Gifts for Him

Cufflinks made from recycled circuit boards
Water powered calculator
Energy efficient DAB radio
Green decorations and homeware

Recycled Christmas gift wrap

Christmas cards made from recycled paper
Fair trade Christmas stockings
Recycled glassware
Solar powered fairy lights

..... and here is the answer to the annual Christmas dilemma.....
(no not the Christmas eve hangover solution!) the other dilemma.....
Name all of Santa's Reindeers:

Rudolph, Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner/Dundon and Blitzen or Blixem
(Dunder & Blitzen is the Dutch for Thunder and Lightning and are often the source of confusion and misspelling!)